Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

The forests around Nevada City are filling up with homes. Take any road radiating from this city and anyone may verify this statement. Cottages, "shacks" in some cases, and in other directions, along the old road over Town Talk for instance, stately homes in the $6.000 class. One reason for this "taking to the woods" is the fact that within Nevada City lot values are higher than they have been for years, so high in fact as to offset the cost of installing septic tanks and water connections outside the city limits.

A great many people build where they can get "elbow room". Trees, bloom, the wild life, grey squirrels, the red crested wood-pecker, song birds, have a fascination for young parents with children. The family car makes such homesites far more convenient than a generation ago. It is a splendid environment for a growing family, and how much better a life for the youngsters than being cooped up in a house in a tightly built city row of dwellings or worse, in a flat or apartment, where every whoop desturbs elderly peace.

Apparently there was a premonition among the Golden Bear's litter at U. C. that old Ursus Major was going to goble the Indian Saturday afternoon in the California Memorial stadium. For the students surely raised Ned, $4,000 worth, according to police compilations in their pregame celebrations. A market was raided and vegetables were scattered from A to Zed, ropes on trolly poles were cut, and the electric current interrupted, tying up street car service in the east bay region. Police were helpless against the student mobs as was proved when in attempting to disburse the rioters, they turned the fire hose on the students, but had it taken away from them and suffered the ignominy of being "washed up" in their own flood streams. Twenty five or thirty students went to jail as a result of the pregame jubilee and undoubtedly were vastly disappointed in failing to witness California's first victory over the boys from the Palo Alto farm in many years. The absence from the Big Game entailed more anguish than "durance vile."

There were other monkey shines of an expensive and devastating character all of which were probably intended to hearten the grid men in their Saturday battle, and prevent them from suffering the usual inferiority complex which is years past produced jitters instead of the goals. Now that the jinx has been hoodoed, so to speak, many an old California grad will look forward to a series of victories in the years to come, a welcome change from the annual gloom and debacle.

We might draw the long face and deduce that the students of our state university have gone to the dogs. That exuberance like other emitions should be directed to "higher things" rather than the destruction of a vegetable market and the inconvenience of many thousands of the street car riders. But we are not. In one hour the strike which ties up shipping in San Francisco bay, does more damage to business than the students did in an evening's hilarity. The longshoremen, and related organizations, halting all commerce, has affected business adversely throughout California. Ask any wide-awake merchant in Nevada City and Grass Valley? Yet there are people so constituted that they will yell till their tonsils are sore about the students riot at the same time take the longshoremen's poke on the chin in silence.

We are far from recommending or approving the abullient student rioting. It establishes a bad precedent, discourages the police, does actual and probably irrecoverable damage to property owners, and puts the university authorities in a bad spot. The latter is probably the most serious, for the university regents will come to the session of the state legislature in January for some millions of dollars for maintenance and then they will have to do some explaining. And this may not be so easy.

SENIOR PROGRAM POSTPONED

Because of lack of practice, the program until some time after Thanksgiving.

The program will either be given the Friday following Thanksgiving or at Christmas.

Due to the postponement, it is expected that more numbers will be added to the entertainment.

WHITE STRIPES SOON TO MARK TWIN CITY ROAD

With the shoulders of the Grass Valley-Nevada City highway about finished, the improved road will soon look like new.

Drivers between the twin cities have already noticed the improvement of the new surface, which makes riding between these two towns much more comfortable.

Fred B. Garrison, local highway maintenance superintendent, states when the contractor puts in a few finishing touches, the local crews will traffic-stripe the road.

The double lines, which is being used throughout the state, on hills will be initiated in this road for the first time. The "do not pass lines" will be striped at Shaw's fruit stand and at the south city limits of Nevada City.

In the last few years, this stretch of travel has had as much traffic on it as do the larger highways in more crowded section of the state.

The progress of the building of the Oakland-San Francisco bridge, exhibited pictorially in the windows of the Bret Harte Cigar store for for than a year, are climaxed with some magnificent views of the completed span. These pictures supplied by the Standard Oil have been so intriguing that many a Nevada City resident has gone down to San Francisco for the special purpose of seeing the bridge. The new series photographic reveals the bridge in use, with different views of its mighty spans, and showing lighted at night, with pictures of fleet south of the span celebrating its opening with a great play of search lights against the sky.

PEDESTRIANS TO BLAME FOR MANY AUTO ACCIDENTS

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23.—Blame for automobile accidents, usually placed at the door of the motorists, is sometimes misplaced, according to Ray Ingels, director of the State Motor Vehicle Department, who says that ofttimes pedestrians are responsible for smash-ups.

Last year, Ingels says, there were 9,947 pedestriains involved in traffic accidents and in at least 3,325 of these, uedestrians themselves, were directly responsible for the accident.

Carelessness of pedestrians accounted for 1518 accidents, the Director said while drunkenness accounted for 928. Five hundred and forty five pedestrians were injured because they became confused in the traffic, 236 were struck because their view was obstructed and ninety seven because they had physical defects.

"Pedestrians pay a heavy price for carelessness," Ingels declared. "In most accidents involving a vehicle and a pedestrian the man on foot finds himself hopelessly outclassed. These accidents have a high fatality record.

"Nearly all pedestrian-vehicle accidents are unnecessary and could have been avoided and had 1100 pedestrians been more alert last year, they would have been alive today."

VISITORS FROM PANAMA ENJOY NEVADA CITY

Charles T. Page and hs sister, Mrs. F. C. Marshall, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Roddy of Town Talk. Mr. Page and Mr. Roddy are friends of more than 35 years, both having lived in the tropics many years. A brother in law of Mr. Page is Major General G. S. Simonds, commander of the Ninth Corps area. Mr. Page and his sister, Mrs. Marshall are greatly enjoying their visit in Nevada City and vicinity. For the first time, he states he has been able to get a closeup of the mining industry and to see how a big gold mine is operated.

FOREST SERVICE BOARD OF FIRE REVIEW TODAY

The meeting of the Fire Board of Review, held by Forest Service officials each year in rotation among the several regions under supervision of the San Francisco Forest Service headquarters, opened this afternoon on Nevada City. All forest rangers of the Tahoe region, Supervisor DeWitt Nelson and members of this staff were present, and the following officials from other parts of the state and headquarters:

R. L. Deering, assistant regional forester; C. A. Gustafson, in charge of fire control; F. J. Jefferson, in charge of improvements; A. A. Brown, in charge of fire detection study; J. E. Elliott, forest supervisor of Sequoia region; and C. R. Tillotson, in charge of state co-operation and fire control.

The three day session in this city will be spent in the study of the fire records of the Tahoe region during the past five years, with charts as showing the areas burned over, the causes, and the methods of control used. This study is preliminary to a discussion of errors that may have been proved in controlling the fires, and of methods used that may be improved in the future.

THANKSGIVING FOR CCC BOYS

Thanksgiving at home is to be a treat denied the 175 Missouri boys of CCC Company 3711, at their camp in Grass Valley this Thursday, but army and camp officials have done all they can to have good food, music and good cheer for the camp enrollees who have worked so hard since last May fighting the forest fires and carrying out conservation programs. Most of the boys are descended from early American stock and have always looked forward to observing the Thanksgiving tradition. Nothing has been left out in the menu, which has been planned for several weeks. Fred Broderick, mess sergeant was chef in a large and exclusive athletic club in Salt Lake City at one time and he will see that everything from the fruit punch and oyster soup that begin the meal to the hot pies, fruit cake, and ice cream that end it will be given the best and most exacting attention. Music is to be furnished by Chuck Novak's camp orchestra. Amusing menus, printed with the names of officers and all the enrollees will be at each place and can be sent home for keepsakes afterwards.

Mrs. Martha Dillon and cousin, M. Giselman, spent the week end in San Francisco and attended the opera.

Deputy Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen was a business visitor in Stockton Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Cassidy attended the Stanford-California game. They will visit their daughter in Los Angeles.

Bill Jeffrey, University of California student will spend Thanksgiving at his home in Nevada City.

Preliminary Work On Debris Dams Begun

Work on the hydraulic debris dams on the North Fork of the American river, Middle Fork of the American river and the Yuba Narrows moved into high gear last week with arrival from Washington of the $100,000 in funds which were appropriated for preliminary work on the dams last week by the United States Army Board of Engineers.

The $100,000 appropriated in Washington arrived in Sacramento on November 15 just four days after the expenditure had been approved by the army board.

Lieut. Col. L. B. Chambers of the United States army with headquarters in Sacramento will be in charge of dam construction for the federal government. In an interview in Sacramento with Joe P. Hall, president of the California Hydraulic Miners Association. Lueit. Col. Chambers assured Hall that the work on the dams would be "shoved right along with no delay."

The quick dispatch which the federal government has been carrying out the preliminary work would indicate that the dams would be under actual construction shortly after the first of the year.

The $100,000 already appropriated will be used to build roads into the sites of the dams and conduct test drillings to determine spscifications needed for each of the dams. Federal officials estimate that all preliminary work on the two dams on the American can be completed within a month. At that time the government will be in a position to issue a call for bids for the actual construction of the dams. The preliminary work on the Narrows dam will require more time, according to engineers.

Major W. E. Harris, and Engineer R. L. Egenhoff, both of the United States army were in Auburn on last Friday gathering the necessary information prior to starting actual work with the $100,000 appropriated by Washington.

Congressman Harry L. Englebright of Nevada City, leader in the fight for the dam appropriation, stated it is not certain that it will be necessary to go to congress for funds to start construction. He said money for the purpose contained in the 1936 rivers and harbors appropriation, may or may not have been diverted to other uses but since $100,000 was quickly made available for preliminary work, he considered that additional substantial sums may be ready for immediate work.

A year ago the California Hydraulic Miners Association with J. P. Hall of Auburn as president, was organized to fight for the $4,000,000 after it was made in the war department appropriation.

It is estimated the North and the Middle Fork of the American river dams will require one year to construct and the Upper Narrows dam on the Yuba river about two years. Hydraulic mining can begin before the dams are completed, however. As the dams mount upward storage spaces will be available in the lower portions.

The engineers' report on the operation of the dams are as follows:

1. The Upper Narrows site on the South Fork of the Yuba river at a construction cost of $3,621,400 a capitalized maintenance and operation cost of $247,000 and a complete amortization of all charges in twenty years at the unit cost of 4.84 cents per cubic yard on a basis of 117,700,000 cubic yards of storage. The height of the dam above the stream bed will be 237 feet.

2. The North Fork site on the North Fork of the American river, at a construction cost of $15,380, a capitalized maintenance and operation cost of $60,000 and a complete amortization of all charges in twenty years at the unit cost of 4.05 cents per cubic yard on a basis of 20,950,000 cubic yards of storage. Height 139 feet.

3. The Lower Ruck-a-Chucky site on the Middle Fork of the American river, at a construction cost of $598,600, a capitalized maintenance and operation cost of $55,100, a complete amortization of all the charges in twenty years at the unit cost of 3.87 cents per cubic yard on a basis of 24,900,000 cubic yards of storage. Height 148 feet.

It is estimated there are 604,000,000 cubic yards of workable gravel in the area above the dams, counting the Bear river watershed. Approxibately 194,000,000 cubic yards are to be stored under the twenty year plan with the Upper Narrows storing 118,000,000 cubic yards; the North Fork 26,000,000 cubic yards, and Ruch-a-Chucky, 24,000,000 cubic yards.

Additional dam sites have been selected in event hydraulic operations wish to continue work after the first dams are filled.

Congressman Englebright has estimated $600,000,000 of gold can be recovered from the sands of the bed of a prehistoric stream which meandered across the Sierra Nevada mountains.

Englebright predicts that hydraulic mining will boom to the benefit of the entire state.

Since 1884, hydraulic mining has been carried on only on a small scale, due to the water decision, which prohibited the pollution of waters running into the valleys. The dams will preven debris from flowing into the valleys.

SERIES OF ACCIDENTS INJURE HATCH FAMILY

Little eight year old Kenneth Hatch, who was struck by a truck last week, is getting along as well as can be expected at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hatch on Clark street. He suffered a severe injury to his knee and the leg is in a cast. Nine stiches were required to close a cut on his head.

The Hatch family have had three serious accidents occur within the last five weeks. First, Mr. Hatch was injured by falling rock in one of the mines and was in Jones Memorial Hospital for several days; Eugene Hatch fell on a rock cutting a deep gash in his leg. Clips were removed from the injury about a week ago, and Kenneth is the last. Eugene also received severe injuries about a year ago when hit by an automobile. It is hoped that this third accident will break the jinx and that no more will come to the Hatch family.

Mrs. Mabel Matzka, State Chairman of Art of the Federated Women's Clubs of California, will be the speaker at the Nevada City Womens Club this evening. Mrs. Charles Elliott by request will sing several selections. A brief business session will begin at eight o'clock and will precede the evenings program.

Streamlined 1937

The locomotives have it.
The automobiles have it.
The bay bridges have it.
The girls have it.
Everything has it.
This is Streamlined 1937—pre-natal showing!

If you doubt it, visit the auto show—any auto show—or just look around you.

Streamlining, we are convinced, is much more than an engineering accomplishment; much more than artistry wedded to science and invention.

It is a symbol of a new age, boldly and confidently wiping out the drab lines of depression, reaching out toward the future!

Incidentally, you may recall the somewhat sorrowful conjecture of a few short years ago; "Can the railroads possibly keep pace with modern development?" "Will they survive, or succumb to the fast-moving competition of the highways and the air?

But now some of the railroad engineers and firemen are chuckling, not to mention the presidents and vice-presidents and the conductors and the brakemen. For in the new auto showing, one of the streamlined automobiles of 1937 is pictured as the little brother of a giant, streamlined locomotive—with automotive pride in every line of the picture.

Viewing it, we're glad to be getting ready for Streamlined 1937!

The Botile's Half Full

The difference between a pessimist and an optimist, according to one of the rough-and-ready, modern-day philosophers, is that "A pessimist says the bottle's half-empty; an optimist, it's half full."

Curbstone philosophy, perhaps, but it has the eloquence of truth.

And it also has particular merit during this hectic, post-depression era, when mankind, still groggy from the long, uphill struggle, is all too apt to question even good fortune.

Holiday business is booming—the best since 1929! There can be no doubt of that. But the Doubting Thomases still doubts. "What about January?" he demands. "There'll be nothing left but the Chritmas bills!"

Wage increases, bonus payments and new dividends have brought cheer to millions of workers and small investors. "But wages still aren't back to normal," declares the shrill voice of pessimism. "It's fine to have increases, sure—but they're inadequate!"

Business and industry have put more than 7,000,000 men back to work in two years. The record is convincing. "But there are still millions unemployed," whispers the pessimist. And so there are!

But California, nonetheless, has the brightest outlook it has had in six long years. And America as a whole has hit the road back. Today's need is for courage to make the final pull to the top of the hill—for resourcefulness, perseverance and a new measure of confidence between worker and employer in making the pull together.

The bottle's not half empty; it's half full!

ROTARY HEARS STORY OF CACAO

The Rotary Club last week heard during their weekly luncheon, an interesting discussion of chocolate and cocoa by Phil Phillips an authority on cacao bean culture and its manufacture into various forms for beverages and confectionery uses.

Phillips stated that Cortez, the Spanish conquistador, discovered chocolate in Mexico on the occasion of a great feast tendered him by Montezuma. It was Cortez who introduced the plant into Spain, where for a century it was jealously guarded from common use by Spain's nobility.

Eventually, however, it began to be grown in South American countries in latitudes of 20 degrees north or south of the equator, and finally spread to the African Gold and Ivory Coasts, to Java and the isles of the Carrabean. At its peak during the world war, chocolate become emergency ration for millions. Cacao beans sold at wholesale at 17 cents per pound and the industry of growing the trees was greatly expanded, resulting in an over-production in which the price dropped to four cents per pound.

Phillips gave an interesting account of the method of growth of the bean pods, the processes used in separating the beans from the pulp, and processes of manufacture.

The Rotary club will not meet this week owing to the Thanksgiving celebration. Reports from President Frank Finnegon were to the effect that he was making normal recovery from his operation and could be expected to return to the club two weeks hence.

CAMPTONVILLE SOON TO HAVE LIBRARY

CAMPTONVILLE, Nov. 23.—The Women's Club of Camptonville held a regular meeting at the home of Mrs. M. G. Calvin a few days ago. The regular routine of business was taken up. Mrs. Louisa Price was admitted as a new member at this meeting.

The matter of the library was taken up, and considerable headway had been made. Mr. J. A. Cassano made a donation of lumber and S. F. Price and Julius E. Pauly are making bookcases. Miss Emma J. Ramm of San Francisco, made the first donation of a large quantity of fine books. Other donations have been promised; in fact, the club may get more books than they will be able to house.

Discussion was had relative to several social functions scheduled for the near future. Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Calvin, and an enjoyable evening was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hitchens will motor to Auburn for Thanksgiving and spend the day with Mrs. Hitchen's niece, Mrs. Gerald Davis.

I'm SOLD on GAS HEAT!

...and I'll tell you WHY!

● This adopted state of mine is God's country, chiefly because it is a Gas country. Praise be to Gas Heating I say every winter when I set a little dial to get good wholesome, healthy heat.

I don't see why Californians bother with any other kind of winter fuel. I've tried them all back East and in the Mid-West. Out here with the low cost Gas Heating rate you are money ahead by using clean, convenient Gas fuel which comes delivered in a pipe and burns without smudgy smoke, smell or soot.

These new self-starting, self-running Gas Circulating heaters with Thermostat Heat Control are the finest heating devices I've ever seen. They are beautifully designed, are inexpensive to buy, and cost very little to operate.

CENTRAL VALLEY PROJECT NOW EMPLOYS 468

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23.—Surveys virtually are complete in all three divisions of California's $170,000,000 Central Valley Water project, Walter K. Young, chief engineer, said today.

Work is progressing rapidly toward calling for construction bids, he said, and the state water project authority is proceeding in negotiating for the acquisition of rights of way and water rights.

On the Kennett division, five sites are under consideration, with 4,000 linear feet of tunnels and shafts, and 4,200 feet of test holes already driven in the exploration of the sites. Exploratory work is progressing at the rate of 800 linear feet of tunnels and shafts and 1,100 linear feet of diamond drill holes per month. The sites being studied are: the Kennett site above Redding; the Baird site on Pit river; and three sites at Table Mountain just north of Red Bluff.

On the Friant division near Fresno final surveys practically have been completed with a total of 1,050 feet of tunnels and 3,500 feet of test holes driven. Plans and specifications for construction of the dam are nearing completion. In addition, the Bureau of Reclamation has completed its final survey of more than 50 miles of main canals, which will take out of Friant reservoir the Madera canal extending north and the Friant-Kern canal extending south. Location surveys are being extended on both canals.

Final location of 12 miles of the Contra Costa division canal has been completed. This canal—35 miles long and serving agricultural, industrial and municipal requirements along the south side of Suisun bay—will head out at Rock Slough on the west side of the delta area, cross the flate near Oakley and then cut across country behind Antioch to serve the area as far south as Walnut Creek.

There are 468 persons employed on the project at the present time, Young said, of which 313 are bureau of reclamation workers and 155 are on contract exploratory work.

The fruits of the efforts to extend scouting to more boys in the Tahoe Area council have been showing results the past several weeks. Over a period of several months a dozen new troop leaders have been secured and, with the search still going on the prospects are good of getting as many more by the first of the year. So far this year two new units have been formed. Present prospects point to three more new units before December 31. Already there is an increase of 5 per cent in membership.

A survey of all boys in grammar schools of the three counties in the area has been started in the larger communities to discover how many boys there are who are not either cubs or scouts. It is expected this survey will show the need for additional leadership from adults to supply the opportunity for more boys to participate in the cub and scout programs If those who have had scout experience or are interested in boys will volunteer to local scout authorities for leadership, the district committees will be saved considerable time.

Preliminary results of this survey were studied at the executive board meeting Thursday evening at the scout hall in Memorial park at Grass Valley. A report was made of the registration of new Troop 30 of Roseville, sponsored by the Mormon church.

2,400,000 TO PAY MOTOR LICENSE FEES FOR 1937

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23.—Postcard notices for 2,400,000 California owners of motor vehicles, notifying them of the fees they will have to pay to obtain plates for 1937, are now being prepared at the rate of 50,000 a day, Howard E. Deems, registrar of vehicles, announced today.

The renewal will start January 2, Deems said, and requested the public not to attempt to get plates until that time.

The cards, which are being typed and rated by a special staff of 200, will show the fee for license plates and the amount of the motor vehicle license fee, which takes the place of city and county personal property taxes. Deems explained. They will not be placed in the postoffice until December 26, to avoid theC hristmas rush of mail.

"The public is especially requested not to attempt to secure 1937 licenses before January 2," the registrar said. "Certificates mailed in without the correct fees will be returned and the applicant requested to consult the nearest branch of the Division of Registration or California highway patrol.

"Because of a special ink used in typing, which will protect the department against alteration, this year the cards will be accepted at face value. Last year this could not be done on account of many alterations.

"The immense amount of work involved in informing registered owners of the fees they must pay, is complicated," Deems said, "because an average of 1,000 notices of change of address are received each week by the department. Because of this, it is possible some vehicle owners will receive two cards, one at the old address and another at the new."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ghidotti will entertain at a family reunion Thursday and expect to have as guests, Mr. and Mrs. John Chidotti. Mr. and Mrs. Tony Rore and children, of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Will Ghidotti of Grass Valley, and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Weeks and son of Auburn.

WHERE DID YOU GET IT?

SOMETIMES, in a friend's house, you see a particularly handsome rug or lamp, a new vacuum cleaner, an attractive chair or table. Or parhaps it's a new coat or dress or some delicious new food-product.

You ask: "Where did you get it?"

Your friend says: "I got it at Blanks."

You don't ask: "How did you know Blank's had it?"

There is no need to ask; there is no mystery about that. You know your friends read the advertisements in this paper. You merely sigh enviously, and think —"I must have missed reading the ads that day."

REGULATIONS FOR BAY BRIDGE

Driving over the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, motorists are subject to some special regulations in addition to the usual rules of the road for highway travel. Important and interesting regulations for bay bridge traffic are reviewed by the California State Automobile Association as follows:

No "U" turns will be permitted on the bridge. Every vehicle passing signs indicating entrances to the bridge immediately becomes subject to the prescribed toll.

Speed regulations are those set up in the Vehicle Code. Emphasis is given by the bridge regulations to the state law prohibiting driving at such a slow speed as to impede the normal flow of traffic. Maximum highway speed regulations, of course also apply.

Motorists can not stop or park on the bridge but must keep moving.

Should a car become stalled, towing service will be supplied by the Division of Highways at double the vehicle toll.

Gasoline will be supplied to stalled vehicles at 30 cents per gallon.

No tire changes or repairs will be permitted on the bridge except by permission and under direction of a highway patrol officer.

The bridge can not be used by vehicles with flat pneumatic or metal tires; by tank trucks or trailers carrying petroleum products; vehicles carrying explosives in any amount, or more than ten gallons of corrosive liquid; or by vehicles with a total vehicle or load width of more than 102 inches.

Also barred from the bridge are pedestrians, bicycles, push carts, wheel barrows or similar vehicles, and animals being led or driven, even though tethered or harnessed.

The toll rate for automobiles, ambulances, taxis, commercial or light delivery automobiles, with driver and not more than four passengers, is 65 cents.

ORE IN SIDEWALK

While cutting the crest off a steep pitch, when repairing the sidewalk in front of his home on Boulder street, recently, Frank Mainhart cut into a two foot ledge of ore carrying good gold values. This is one of the veins that cross into Red Men's park and is exposed in Deer Creek to the north.

Private Diary

(of a young lady)

ON MONDAY: Letter from Brother Jo. He full of his astronomy and learned talk. Says I should really come to College and get a career. Says I am feather brained. But I wouldn't go, at least not like Jo and study all the time. And wear glasses and do algebra about the stars. I am getting along with Him too well now to leave the field.

ON TUESDAY: Heard my family talking. About me and career. So bro. Jo has written to them, too!

ON WEDNESDAY: Family trying to get up nerve to tell me I should be a woman with a profession. I am smart. I don't let them talk to me. But I am worried. To leave him: and Lil still here!

ON WEDNESDAY: To CHARLES with my worry. See Him, said he, on this evening wearing this coiffure I shall create for you alone. If something doesn't happen to change your family's dark plans —well, I know I'm right. So I planned to see Him this night. My coiffure divine. My hopes high.

ON THURSDAY: And CHARLES was right. At last, He deigned to ask the fatal question, fatal for him, you know. Because I've had it in mind all along. And to CHARLES—medal for managing a most successful campaign!

PIONEER CELEBRATES 83RD YEAR OF BIRTH

Friends called at the home of Free Woodman, on Park avenue, Thursday to congratulate him on his 83rd birthday and wish him many happy returns of the day. Although not so well at times he was feeling fairly well and in good spirits on his birthday which is good news to his many friends.

Mr. Woodman is a Nevada county pioneer having come from the New England states when a youth. He can relate many interesting and amusing events that took place in "ghost towns" when the monitors tore away moutains to bring fortht rich returns in gold. Red Dog, You Bet, Quaker City and many others were booming mining camps when he arrived in California.

Daisy Lane, formerly of Truckee passed away at the county hospital Sunday afternoon. The remains are at Holmes Funeral Home in this city. Definite funeral arrangements have not been made.
